Installation Thanks!

My sincerest thanks to everyone who made this last weekend one I will remember and cherish for a long time. Besides the thanks listed elsewhere in the newsletter, I want to add a special word of thanks to Beth Aubrey Meyer and the choir for their hard work, thought, and organization of the service. The music served as the glue that held the service together. Also, a shout-out to Diane Merriman for the extra work and thought required to get everything printed and ready for the service.

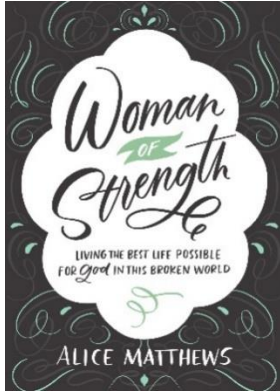

I am aware that in some sense, Sunday was just "another Sunday." The days move on and there is always another Sunday coming. (Sundays are relentless - they come around every 7 days!) There is much work yet ahead of us. There are significant challenges before us, issues to be addressed, and opportunities for ministry that have yet to be revealed. But, for a few moments at least I will bask in the memories of this past weekend and celebrate the goodness, commitment, and faith that was on display for all to see and feel on Sunday. It was a good day. Thank you!

Pastor Frank

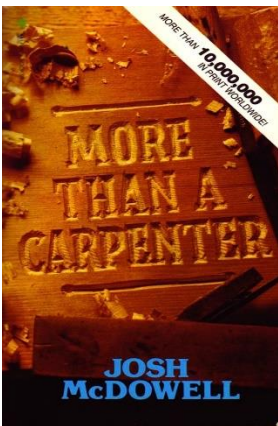

The Book Nook

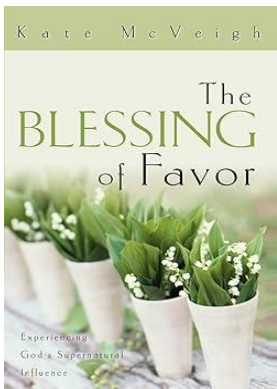

Cool off in the shade this summer and enjoy a great read that just might improve you life!

Women of Strength by Alice Mathews unpacks Proverbs 31. Through careful translation, practical application, and reflection questions, you will discover what Proverbs 31 reveals about women, about men, and about God himself. It teaches us to live the best life possible for God in this broken world.

More than a Carpenter by Josh McDowell. Once an agnostic, McDowell converted to Christianity while investigating its historical claims. This book tells how Jesus changed his life. Josh spoke at college and university campuses challenging those who don't believe in Christ's deity, resurrection and claims on their lives. His work emphasizes historical and legal evidence for Christianity and tackles challenges posed by skepticism and non-Christian beliefs.

The Blessings of Favor by Kate McVeigh tells how favor in your life is not based on your background, talents, or abilities. Kate reveals the meaning of God's supernatural favor and how to expect it to operate in every area of your life, including your relationships, job, school, finances, and ministry. Realize the divine favor you have with God and man and how to put it to work in your life. Begin to meditate on the principles in this book, and you too will see yourself walking in The Blessing of Favor.

Posy Pot Dedication:

Happy Birthday to Anne Crapo from your Linwood Family

What a great celebration we had Sunday, June 15th when we “formally” installed Frank Everett as our Pastor at Linwood. Several friends of Frank’s attended, the Rev. Dr. Robin Welch gave the Sermon and the Rev. Dr. Christal Williams presided over the Service of Installation. Pastor Lynne, Gary Harding, John Jones, and Rich Sharp also participated in the service. Gayle and her crew cooked up a great meal and the cakes (one white, one chocolate) were absolutely decadent! Just can’t say enough about how great it was to see the Choir all “Robed Up” in the Chancel. We got to join in with a LOUD CLAP at the right time during the “Rise and Shine” part of “Wake Up, Church, Wake Up!”

This next Sunday, June 22, there will be somebody different in the pulpit. No, Pastor Frank has not left the church a week after being installed as the minister. But, for a Sunday, he is "exchanging pulpits" with the Rev. Gale Stutz, pastor of Carmel Christian Church. The idea was born out of a desire for the two congregations to develop a closer relationship of sharing as a result of the decision by CCC to adopt the Food Pantry as one of its outreach missions. Please be on your best Linwood welcoming behavior and make Pastor Gale feel at home!

For those who like to read and think ahead, her sermon will be based on Galatians 3:23-29 and is titled: "We Are One."
